

Sowing Seeds of Peace

Ms. Sanjna Kapoor, a theatre personality and cofounder of Junoon, wrote this column in THE WEEK dated November 29, 2015, entitled 'Living with Terror'. I was so awed and moved, I thought it was the best reflection for a New Year message wherein we speak of peace. The article is not just about 'living with terror', but 'sowing seeds of peace' in challenging situations. Wish you a Peace filled, Joy filled and Mercy filled New Year 2016. +Lumen, CSC

Ms. Kapoor writes: "I am struggling to string words together to make sense of all that is going on across the world. All I can think of is our children, our hope for a more humane tomorrow. Unfortunately, ISIS, too, is looking at children. It wants to recruit children into its evil doctrine. So, our counter 'indoctrination' needs to bear the wisdom of farsighted consequences. I do not believe violence met with more violence can ever create true peace. All we have to fall back on is our humanity. It is this power of reasoning and empathy that we need to evoke in our children. And, I believe there is another critical ingredient- imagination.

So, in my small way, with Junoon, I contribute to this world by working with children. I am in the midst of weekend workshops in Gurgaon with children aged nine to twelve. In the midst of all this gloom, I get such energy from this work... One of the most amazing moments was when Ajay spoke about his work as a filmmaker with Seeds of Peace, an organization that works at conflict resolution with youth from hostile regions. Ajay shared his experience in Palestine--the birthplace of three major religions of the world, namely Judaism, Christianity and Islam, and yet it had been in a state of conflict for a millennia. He asked the children to do some research on this and try to understand the causes for this state of turmoil. Clearly, this is not a school that shies away from the stark reality of our times, and values its role as a holistic educator...

A few days later, I was overwhelmed at the warmth and sense of hope I experienced at a reception of the Freedom Theatre School students at the Palestinian Embassy in Delhi. Six students with two teachers from Jenin in Palestine, are working with Jana Natya Manch (JANAM) to create a street theatre piece that will travel across eleven cities later this year. Both these unique theatre organizations have lost their leader to brutal assassinations... today both these groups collaborate to sow seeds of peace and greater understanding across countries..."

No Longer a 'Young Diocese'!

Editorial

Lying on the floor, his deathbed, Francis of Assisi, told his followers who asked him if he had something to tell them, "Brothers, we have done nothing; let us begin". While ordinary mortals like us seem rather contented with our puny exploits, those like Francis seem to be afflicted by a hunger 'to begin again' because in their eyes, all they have done is 'nothing.'

It is a doubly poignant consideration for us not only having just stepped into a New Year, but having also completed this January two decades as a Diocese.

Since that exhilarating 11th day of January in 1996, we have come past 19 Januaries. Sheer habit made us refer to ourselves as a 'young Diocese' into a few extra years even, hardly noticing that the Diocese had outgrown its need of the adjective and perhaps thus gave away a bit of ourselves, unwittingly.

Having arrived at the start of another year we cannot but thank Almighty God for all that has been, for his care and mercy despite our failings. We realize the year ahead is also another opportunity He gives us to 'begin again', to make amends, restore broken relationships, remember forgotten prayers, and rekindle within us dying embers of warmth, sensitivity and compassion.

As a grown up Diocese twenty years old, we bow our heads in gratitude to God and marvel at the work He is doing in our midst. We thank Him for our Bishop Lumen whom He has kept as the head of the flock for twenty years now and for his many qualities of the heart and head that certainly are an asset for the Diocese.

We want this Diocesan Jubilee to be a 'New Beginning' not because nothing has happened but because our hunger for miracles has not died. We have seen them - sown seeds yielding harvest - thirty fold, sixty fold, and hundred fold! We have seen the smallest of seeds turning into the mightiest of shrubs.

As Time's winged chariot continues to hurry past and as we, yielding to inescapable changes recede into horizons yonder, God fulfils His miracle in many ways. We, miracle watchers on the shore of Time sometimes call it 'twenty years', sometimes 'twenty centuries'. Happy New Year!

KHUMULWNG PARISH

One of the main purposes of Inter-Religious Christmas Mela at St. Alphonsa Parish is to unite and minimize the ill-talks among different denominations in addition to spreading the message of Christmas. Christ the King Procession was trod and Holy Mass was offered by more than 400 people in St. Arnold Kachucherra, Ambassa Parish. The faithful gathered in Boloram Market, 4 kilometers away from the Parish Centre to begin their procession with a hymn to the Holy Spirit. As they began some were hesitant, few were cautious and others were excited to cover the 4 kilometers to reach the destination. Politically engrossed onlookers thought it could certainly be an election march by a tribal party. As the procession was moving in lines on the sub-way of Kachucherra all were enthused to sing and pray. Just having finished the Diocesan level Mega Procession at Nandanagar in Agartala, the faithful were inspired to join in this procession to praise Christ the King. The village chapel was constructed by local contribution from the parishioners. The old village was situated in an isolated and interior location. The only way to the isolated village was river outlet. The village was shifted closer to the human habitation by providing a house, water supply and road by the Government. The villagers were hungry and thirsty for the Word of God, and their faith prompted them to construct a village chapel. It is truly the symbol of peoples' Church. Fr. Arun Minj SVD

AGARTALA DIOCESE COMMENCES 'YEAR OF MERCY' CELEBRATIONS

The central door of Don Bosco Church at Nandan Nagar became the 'Holy Door of Mercy' for the Diocese of Agartala when Bishop Lumen Monteiro CSC, DD, opened it to the faithful in a specially held ceremony on 13th December 2015 in the presence of a large number of priests, religious and parishioners. The symbolic ceremony and the Holy Eucharist that followed signaled Agartala Diocese joining Catholic Dioceses and Bishops all over the world who on that same day, at the behest of Pope Francis, opened 'Doors of Mercy' in their respective Dioceses.

The Holy Door is a help devised in order to enable people to encounter Jesus during this year. Those who, as part of a pilgrimage, pass through a designated Holy Door can obtain a Plenary Indulgence if they are properly disposed, have gone to confession, receive the Eucharist, and pray for the intentions of the Pope.

The Parish Priest of the Church designate, Fr. Sunny SDB, said that all possible arrangements would be made so that pilgrims who come will have an 'experience of meeting the merciful Lord'. The Coordination Committee of the Year of Mercy formed with Fr. Sunny as the Coordinator has already chalked out a number of steps to ensure that everyone spends a spiritually enriching year ahead. Other programs planned include group wise retreats and pilgrimages. YoM Desk
