

Pastor's Corner

Today as I step into the 70th year of my life I like to reflect on age. It is said there are three ages: chronological, biological, and psychological. The first is calculated based on our date of birth; the second is determined by the health conditions; the third is how old we feel we are. While we don't have control over the first, we can take care of our health with good diet, exercise and a cheerful attitude. A positive attitude and optimistic thinking can reverse the third age.

Dr. P. Aloysius is of the opinion that many people feel unhappy, health-wise and security-wise, after the age of 60, owing to the diminishing importance given to them. But, it need not be so, if only we understand the basic principles of life and follow them scrupulously. He adds, "Like a dark fog, a sense of failure can be a common occurrence on the spiritual journey. No one is spared suffering, sickness, or failure. Failure and letdowns can be our teachers. When it seems like we are walking through a dense fog, God remains by our side. We keep walking in trust, and eventually find that our heavy-with-fog path may be life-changing."

Fogbound times can confront us with truths about ourselves that we would rather not know, and see things about ourselves that we would rather not see. The mystery of God's actions breaks down our denials and defenses while opening us up to new and frightening challenges. The fog eventually lifts, and the warmth and the light of the sun will once again be ours."

Thoughts as I step into a new decade!

"Failing is as much a part of life as succeeding. We fail through human weakness, but we rise through the mercy of God. Believing that the sun will shine again is choosing faith over understanding. Life brings situations we cannot understand. However, we are more in need of God's mercy, than in need of understanding our life's situations. God loves us in spite of ourselves. The fogbound phases of life make it difficult to know what to do, or where to go. Yet, it is of little use to brood about foggy times because negative thinking gets us nowhere. If negative thoughts assail us, we need to change the endlessly running theories our mind keeps replaying, and think about the gifts and talents God has given us. By using them in new ways, they may lead to new growth, and new service to others."

During the hazy times of living, we can be encouraged by the prayer of Thomas Merton who wrote: "My Lord God, I have no idea where I am going. I do not see the road ahead of me. I cannot know for certain where it will end. Nor do I really know myself, and the fact that I think I am following your will does not mean that I am actually doing so. But I believe that the desire to please you does in fact, please you. I hope I will never do anything apart from that desire. And I know that if I do, you will lead me by the right road, though I may know nothing about it."

As I celebrate yet another year of God's gift of life to me I remember God's countless blessings on me and I say 'THANK YOU' God. I also say 'THANK YOU' to each of you who have been a part of my life. Please pray for me. +Lumen, CSC

EDITORIAL

We step into the month of February wishing our dear Bishop happy birthday and many happy returns of the same.

We are going through lean times. There isn't much money anywhere. Even what used to be considered booming businesses and thriving enterprises got badly hit by the corona pandemic and its numerous ramifications. In times such as these the gap between the rich and the poor becomes unnervingly glaring.

In Tripura 'chakri' (job, especially government job) is the magic word that determines on which side of the gap one is. Having a chakri is not only about being financially secure, but also about status, about self-confidence, and about elitist attitudes. There is even a market in Agartala called 'market of the chakri wallahs'! And it doesn't matter vegetables are costlier out there, some 'chakried' insist on marketing only from there. Money is a small thing when compared to status after all! contd.on pag2

"Let me have men about me that are..."

LINK wishes our beloved Bishop Most Rev. Lumen Monteiro, CSC a very HAPPY BIRTHDAY on 1st February, and pray God's abundant blessings on him.

The gap between the rich and the poor is seen also in the settings we minister. Most of the people we rub shoulders with belong to the economically weak category; but there are also some who do not belong to that category - the 'service-holders'. The nature of our ministries might require that we collaborate closely with the so-called service-holders, who are also undoubtedly better off, educationally and economically. It is true that for no fault of their own, they are also better equipped and positioned to influence policies and practices and parameters. That would be an asset for the institution, as long as they are sensitive to the lot of the poor and do not use their privileged position to push own agendas and ideas with ulterior intentions.

Such scenario is bad because the poor are not part of our inner circle; and far worse if those we surround ourselves with, lack sensitivity to those who are less fortunate. Are our parishes, institutions, and organizations being subject to back-seat driving by an unfeeling coterie of privileged few?

Ever since the infamous lockdown it has been tough going for all, especially the unemployed. Those who have been uninterruptedly drawing salaries even during lockdown period, need not necessarily understand.

We would be guilty of oppressing the poor if carried away by efficiency, class and speed, we forget to weigh our choices from the vantage point of the unemployed and the poor.

KAMARANGA PARISH

Old Christo-Mela in new Wineskins

Kamranga Christo Mela (Christmas Fair) had been celebrated before Christmas every year since last

20 years. But the 21st Christo Mela was celebrated after Christmas in 2021. Many were skeptical about the decision of celebrating the Mela after the Christmas and were unable to detach themselves of the feeling of so called "good custom of celebrating it as pre-Christmas Celebrations!" The Parish Council meticulously evaluated and found that Pre-Christmas Celebrations has more disadvantage than advantage. People forget the advent preparations and whole community cannot participate in pre-Christmas celebrations. Parents are busy at home, children have exams and the Youth too are not present in the family. So the Parish Council decided to celebrate Christo Mela after Christmas and the result was that children, youth, students, parents and people participated and celebrated the Christo Mela well. Think out of the box...! Fr. Arun Minj SVD

Archbishop Tutu 'a beacon of truth and freedom' for the world

Despite his death at the age of 90, the late Archbishop Desmond Tutu remains a beacon of freedom and truth for South Africans and people across the globe. Among his many achievements, the Archbishop led the Truth and Reconciliation Commission set up to seek restorative—not retributive—justice for crimes committed during the apartheid era. The Catholic Bishop of Bethlehem in South Africa, Jan de Groef, was among those who recalled Archbishop Tutu as a "beacon" who "reminds us of our calling as shepherds." Speaking to Vatican News' Claire Riobe, Bishop de Groef said he hoped all Church leaders might be faithful as the late Archbishop was. "Archbishop Tutu was very engaged for the truth and for freedom, recognizing each and every person's dignity," said the Bishop. The late Archbishop was also active in ecumenical efforts and maintained good relations with other denominations, including the Catholic Church. On the same day as his death, Pope Francis sent his condolences for the death of the "servant of the Gospel" and paid tribute to his "promotion of racial equality and reconciliation in his native South Africa."
